

GRADE DISPUTE

If students have questions about final grades assigned, they need to first address their concerns with the instructor within five school days after receiving official documentation of the grade(s). If the concern is not resolved at that level, students need to follow the grievance procedure outlined below.