

SUMMER SESSION

As Washburn University Institute of Technology continues to broaden the scope of its educational activities, the technical training needs of an increasing number of students extends into the summer months. The Washburn Institute of Technology Summer Session includes day and evening classes, special summer institutes, and online courses.